

The New Jersey Department of Labor's Office of Research & Information (ORI) is the state's key source for New Jersey economic and labor market intelligence. Regional Focus offers insight and analysis on the changing employment situation in New Jersey's regional labor areas, its industries and comparisons with statewide data. The articles, tables and charts illustrating employment by industry, unemployment rates, characteristics of the unemployed, and highlights of economic activity let Regional Focus develop a picture of New Jersey labor areas and insight into changes within them. Below is the link to the Third Quarter 2013 Regional Focus, which has been updated with the most recent labor market information.
